

Angel Torch One-Pager

Title: VeilBreakers — The Hidden War

Company: OmniSpirit Entertainment Inc.

Contact: hello@omnispiritentertainment.com

Logline (choose one):

A) In a future fractured by engineered memory, a wounded young leader learns that surrender to the One True Voice—not dominance—is the only way to cut through the Veil and rescue the girl who can unmake it.

B) A redemptive YA saga where courage is surrender, love outlasts control, and faith rewrites what the Veil calls impossible.

World & Premise (4 lines):

The Veil edits truth and rewards domination. A small remnant remembers. Their weapon is not force but remembrance under the One True Voice—faith meeting physics. Mercy, not might, unlocks power.

Protagonist & Objective (2–3 lines):

Kairo, a scarred young leader, must breach the Veil to free Aria/Arishel, whose restored memory can unmask the lie. His sword ignites only when he surrenders—“two taps, one breath”—choosing mercy over dominance.

Antagonistic Force (2 lines):

Shemihazah, a fallen Watcher, rules by counterfeit harmony—total recall without surrender. He seeks Aria as queen and weapon to fuse soul, resonance, and rewritten reality.

Core Theme:

Authority through yieldedness. Mercy over dominance. Faith aligned with truth reshapes what's possible.

Why It Adapts (bullets):

- Mythic visuals (Veil fractures, glyph-light, memory immersion)
- YA romance + squad camaraderie + iconic chant: “For Rift-Bridge!”
- Clean faith spine with mainstream sci-fi thrills (PG-13 lane)
- Transmedia runway: Book I complete; workshops live; AAA game deck in development

Comparable Titles:

Dune (mythic scale), A Quiet Place (family-scale intensity), The Chosen (faith community engagement)

Audience Proof / Traction:

- “Faith-based and trauma-informed youth workshops” launched (opt-in faith track; chaplaincy-aligned)

- Website, press kit, and one-pagers ready; early partner list in BC/Western Canada
- Email capture in place; youth leader interest forming

Production Path (Torch):

- 90-second teaser (micro-crew, 2 interiors + 1 exterior)
- Founder pitch video (2–3 minutes)
- Pilot package outline (scriptment + lookbook frames)

Call to Action:

If you want this made, light the Torch. Share the teaser, join the list, and partner on screenings/workshops.